Sports differ in rules, uniforms, and playing equipment but they are alike because they all involve competition Competition between individuals, schools, cities, and even countries. Yet, unlike the competition of military goals, industrial rivalry, and over-realous nationalism—the competition which sports affords must by its very nature yield cooperation for no side can win if each is playing by a different set of rules

GAL NAMED BESS

Five got a girl whose name is Bess,

Not good looking I confess

Arm like a blacksmith foot like a ham

Dumb as a mule from Alabam

Hump on her back, she has a cork leg

Mole on her neck as big as an egg

One eye is green, the other is blue

Her hair is false and her teeth are too

Underhung jaw and her mouth is numb
All out of wack from chewing jum
Turned up nose and a namy goat chin

But a darn good girl for the shape she's in

... Nature's art makes up for man's betrayals

For thousands of years man has been expressing himself through forms of art such as music, drawing, painting, crafts, and drama Through the arts man can project his feelings and ideas about his environment and matters of the world

Man is able to express all of his moods through the arts and rould, instead of resorting to actions which may harm manner, use all aspects of art to reflect his various moods

In painting and drawing man can express his feelings on paper for others to see and interpret. He captures a scene of the countryside or urban poverty with equal skill. By using drama man can act out all the emotions and everyday occurrences of life for the audience to share.

The arts are the universal language of mankind. Through them ian can truly communicate though they have the high walls flanguage and national differences between

Senior High Student Council

The dynamic Student Council representatives chosen this year by their fellow students have worked very hard to make Ounder High a school with a spirited and mature student voice. A very invantive group, they sponsored the first float contest, at homecoming, and presented the student's opinion on the dress code. They tried hard to show how the process of open communications among students, administration, teachers, and the community can provide great results.

This year's Junior High Student Council has been working on a new constitution. Since there are many more Junior High students this year Student Council hopes to be able to help solve the problems of the transition into Junior High activities. The Representatives also plan parties and dances as money-making projects.

This year's Tempus has striven to point out that communications the key to peace—peace and understanding be tween students, faculty, and administration. We hope we have illustrated that everyone should try to apply what is earned in thuse hails to a universal understanding of humanity in our generation.

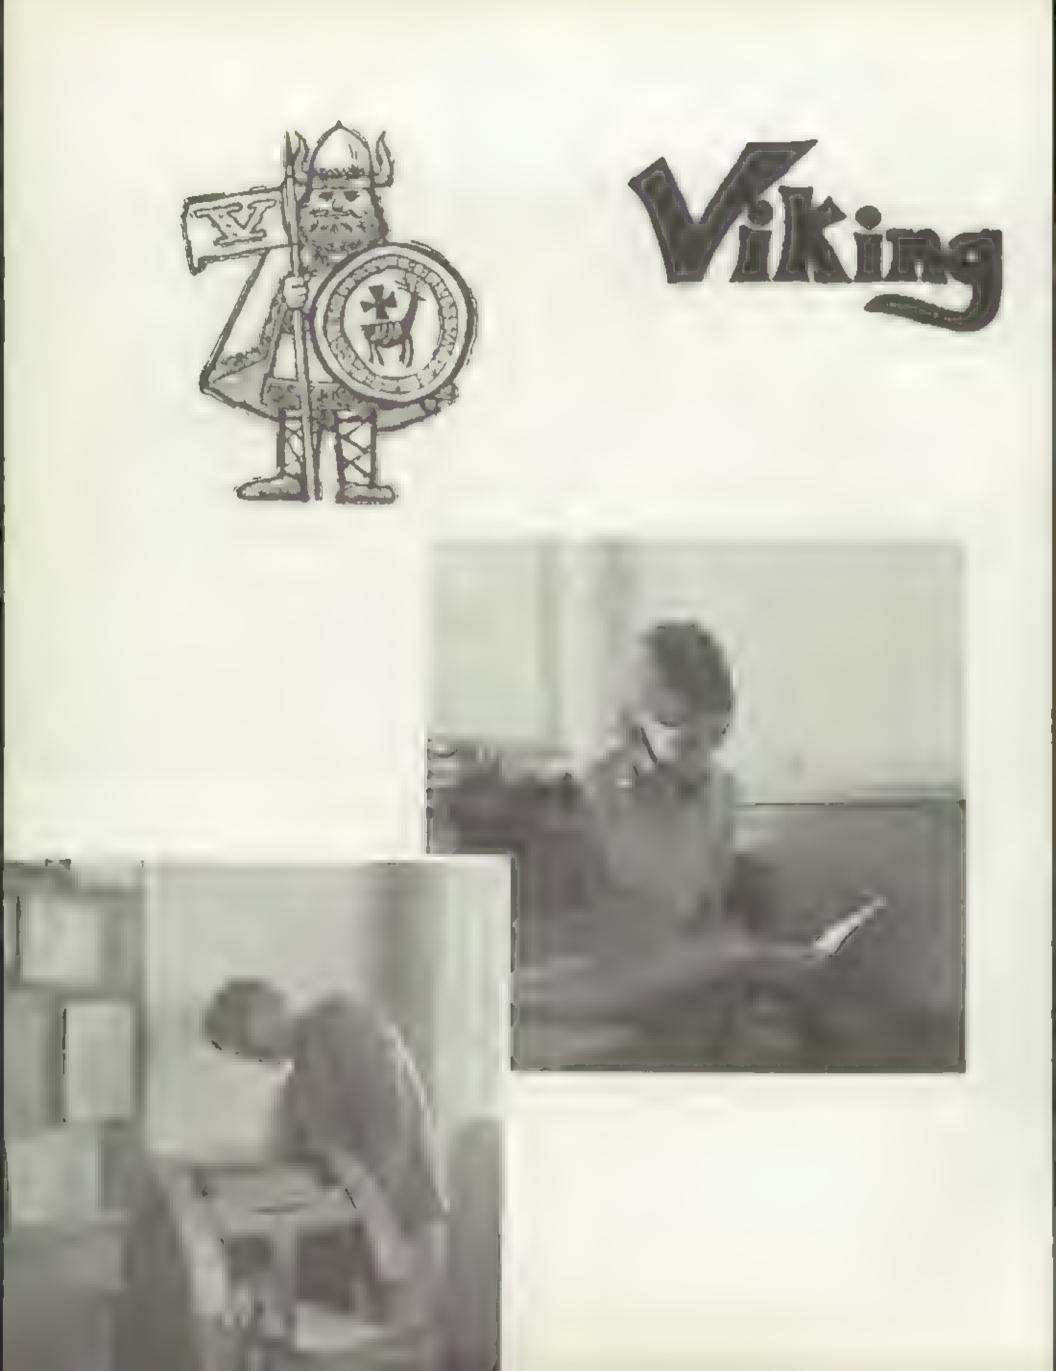

Every year the yearbooks "professional staff decides that this year will be more or garried than last! Hopeful thinking! But then the spirit is never facking around here, especially on Wednesdays at 6.30 By the end of the year it is decided that the perfect Tempus staffer should have nine hands, a photographic memory, tons of time, and a stomach that can last from 3.00 to 7.00 with no food. Despite these minor problems we hope you all enjoy this year's Tempus
